

Washington DSHS Abuse & Neglect Lawyers

As Washington DSHS abuse lawyers, we initiate litigation against the State of Washington on behalf of those who have suffered horrific abuse and neglect as the result of the failure by the state to protect them in foster care, or the failure by CPS to take appropriate action in response to reports of abuse. We represent those who have been starved, beaten, locked away, repeatedly raped and sexually molested, and the families and loved ones of those who have died as the result of state negligence.

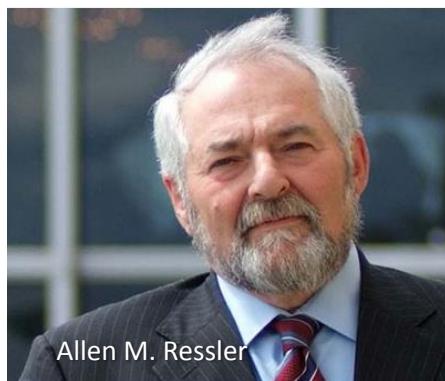

How We Help

We work tirelessly to recover full compensation for our clients for the injuries and psychological damages that they have suffered, and for the long-term intensive therapy often required. We know that pain and suffering continue long after the physical abuse stops. We seek to hold the State of Washington fully accountable for its negligence, and have successfully recovered millions of dollars from them for our clients.

Call Us Today to Schedule a Free, No-Obligation Consultation

Contact us today to see how we can help. We offer a free, no-obligation consultation so that we can learn about your case. Unless otherwise agreed, we work on a contingency basis, meaning there is no fee for us unless and until we obtain compensation for you.

Allen M. Ressler

Tim R. Tesh

Jonathan S. Barash

For more information about how we help those injured due to the negligence of the Washington Department of Social and Health Services (“DSHS”) or its agency Child Protective Services (“CPS”), please visit our website at www.cpslawsuit.com. To find out how we help those injured in accidents caused by others, please visit our personal injury website at www.ressslertesh.com. As all cases are unique, there can be no guaranty that a successful outcome will be achieved in any case.